WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Baron and Associates

baron.com.au | Sydney, Australia | Prepared for the team

A Sydney commercial and property law firm with over 30 years of experience is a strength, but mismatched links and no contact form appear to cost you enquiries.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The homepage appears to have no contact form, only an email address, a phone number and office hours.	A business owner with an urgent matter has to switch to email or phone instead of sending a quick message.	A short confidential enquiry form that sends straight to your team.
Menu labels appear not to match their pages: 'legal services for business' appears to link to /portfolio/private-services/ and 'succession planning' to /portfolio/one-more/.	Clients land on the wrong page and a placeholder slug looks unfinished.	Labels and pages that match, with clean addresses.
Leftover interface text appears on the page ('Loading', 'Carousel controls Previous Next') and news dates appear as 'October 30, 2026by' with no space.	Visible leftovers and typos make a professional firm look careless.	Clean markup and proofread dates.
The claim 'australia's no.1 development' appears with no source, and no testimonials, named lawyers or certifications appear.	Unsupported claims and missing proof give a developer little reason to trust you.	Named partners, testimonials and sourced credentials.
