WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Hones Lawyers

honeslawyers.com.au | North Sydney, Australia | Prepared for Jason Hones

A North Sydney property and planning boutique with recognised specialists is a strength, but copied award labels and clashing contact details appear to cost you enquiries.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
Two phone numbers appear (02 8318 0788 and 02 9929 7071), the address appears in two formats, and the hours line appears to link to a map.	A client cannot tell which number to call, and mixed details look careless for a law firm.	One verified phone, address and hours block.
The enquiry dropdown appears to show literal asterisks ('Select Legal Service') and the form labels appear with stray characters such as 'Full Name *'.	Visible form glitches make a client doubt that the message will arrive.	A clean labeled form with a clear submit button.
Image text appears to name another organisation ('Doyles 2026 Environment icon'), and the testimonial text appears to contain 'plesant people' and '87 years lifetime'.	Copied labels and typos weaken the proof you want a new client to trust.	Correct award labels and proofread testimonials.
The claims '95% success rate' and 'thousands of clients' appear with no basis, two case studies appear in both News and Case Studies, and the Team section appears to show only 3 of 9 people.	Unexplained numbers and repeated content make proof look thin.	Sourced results, distinct case studies and a full team page.

What your new website will do for Hones Lawyers

- One verified contact block.
- A clean consultation form.
- Correct awards, sourced results and a full team page.
