WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Al Kabban and Associates

alkabban.com | Business Bay, Dubai | Prepared for the Al Kabban team

Thirty years of practice and a wide range of services are strong, but dead links and placeholder content appear to weaken the first impression.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The FAQ questions, the Proven Legacy of Excellence block and the blog categories link to #, and the menu shows the text [IMAGE].	Dead links and leftover labels make a long established firm look unfinished.	Working links and a clean menu.
The team and client images appear to be empty placeholders, and the statistics render as 10 / k+ instead of 10k+.	Broken figures and missing photos reduce the proof clients rely on.	Real team photos and clean figures.
Experience is stated as Since 1993, 30+ Years and over 200 years, and the LinkedIn links differ between header and footer.	Mixed claims make clients question every number.	One verified set of facts.
No enquiry form shows, the contact sections list only phone, email and address, and no WhatsApp number appears.	Clients who want to message first have no easy option and some will leave.	A short enquiry form and a WhatsApp button.
