WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Bosley Real Estate

bosleyrealestate.com | Toronto, Canada | Prepared for the Bosley team

A brokerage with nearly a century of history appears to lose seller leads to dead menu parents and a missing valuation form.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
Menu parents such as Browse Listings, Sell, Buy and Relocate and Learn appear to link to #, and Contact appears to link to #.	Visitors cannot reach the pages that bring in sellers and buyers.	Working pages behind every menu item.
The Get A Property Evaluation item appears in the navigation, but no valuation form appears, only general contact forms.	Owners ready for a valuation have no direct way to ask.	An on page valuation form.
The hero image file appears to be named Header-Placeholder, and the location lists appear with underscores such as Niagara_Region.	Placeholder images and raw labels look unfinished.	Real hero imagery and clean labels.
A market update for the week ending September 25 appears dated July 31 2026, and the history appears as both since 1928 and 100 years.	Date and history mismatches weaken trust.	Correct dates and one history line.
