WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Edwards Family Law

edwardsfamilylaw.co.uk | London | Prepared for the Edwards Family Law team

A boutique focus on complex divorce is strong, but two different phone numbers and an enquiry form that appears to show no fields put high value enquiries at risk.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The Call us button shows +020 8038 1931, which has an invalid prefix, while the footer lists +44 (0)20 3983 1818. The two numbers differ.	A high value client who taps to call may reach the wrong line or fail to connect.	One checked number everywhere.
The cookie banner shows Manage {vendor_count} vendors and three {title} entries, and the Terms of Use link goes to the privacy policy.	Unfilled code and wrong links look careless for a law firm.	A clean banner and correct links.
The Initial Consultation Form appears to show labels and Submit without visible fields, with an unexplained field labelled Untitled and run together labels such as Preferred Method of ContactEmailPhone.	Complex divorce clients may not be able to enquire at all.	A tested form with clear fields and confirmation.
Alice Carter is Associate Solicitor in her title but Trainee in her bio, which ends mid sentence, and the awards line says Chambers & Partners in one place and CHAMBERS HNW 2025 in another.	Mixed credentials weaken the proof high net worth clients look for.	Consistent credentials and complete profiles.

What your new website will do for Edwards Family Law
