WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

International Lawyers Co-operative

ilclaw.com.au | Sydney CBD | Prepared for the ILC team

Your conveyancing and leasing page has named lawyers and clear contact details, but an outdated message, an unfinished form and little proof hold it back.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The Online Enquiry form has fields and a disclaimer but no visible submit button, and the only other action is Contact us.	A client who fills the form may not be able to send it.	A working form with a clear send button.
The page says From 1 July 2019 documents will need to be lodged electronically and From 1 July 2020 many more to come, as if those dates were ahead.	Out of date wording signals a site no one maintains.	Current, accurate legal guidance.
Typos and slips include NEWs, New South Wales.From, PEXA and OSR with no explanation, and answer options that run together (YesNo).	Errors and jargon confuse clients and lower trust.	Proofread, plain language copy.
Testimonials appear only as a menu link, there is no WhatsApp or booking option, and Primary Sidebar and Footer labels show on the page.	Clients want proof and an easy way to book.	Testimonials on the page, WhatsApp and a booking link.

What your new website will do for International Lawyers Co-operative

- A working enquiry form, click to call and a booking link.
- Current guidance, testimonials on the page and lawyer profiles.
