WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Kaelon Beauty

kaelonbeauty.com | Sydney, Australia | Prepared for the team

A Sydney skin and beauty brand with treatments and a shop is a strength, but five dead menu links and leftover template text appear to cost you sales and bookings.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
Five menu items (By Concern, Collections, Bath and Body, Brands A to K and Brands L to Z) appear to link to #.	Shoppers who browse by concern or brand land nowhere and leave.	Working collection pages for every menu item.
The text 'Describe what your customers will receive when subscribing to your newsletter' and the carousel labels 'Go to item 1 Go to item 2' appear visibly on the page.	Leftover template text makes a premium brand look unfinished.	Clean, finished copy and hidden carousel labels.
The practitioner name appears as Madonna in one review and Madona in three others, and Lip Balm appears to link to the same page as Treatments and Serums.	Spelling and link mismatches weaken trust and confuse shoppers.	Consistent names and correct links.
Testimonials appear with no dates, ratings or surnames, one attributed to 'DIY VACATION', and one appears to say the client is now overseas.	Thin and odd proof gives a new customer little reason to trust the brand.	Verified reviews with dates and ratings.

What your new website will do for Kaelon Beauty

- Working menu and collection pages.
- Finished, clean copy.
- Consistent names, verified reviews and correct links.
