WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Kaluh Real Estate

kaluh.com.au | Sydney, Australia | Prepared for Julie and Nikko

A Bexley North agency led by Julie and Nikko appears to lose seller and landlord enquiries because the homepage offers only an email and a phone number to reach them.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The homepage appears to have no enquiry form, only an email address and a phone number.	A seller who is only browsing will not stop to write an email or make a call, so a hot lead can leave without a trace.	A short enquiry form on the homepage that sends you the lead at once.
No WhatsApp or text option appears on the page.	Property owners message first and call later, and the agent who replies fastest wins the listing.	A one tap WhatsApp and text button.
Several listings appear to show Contact Agent instead of a price or detail.	A buyer who cannot see a price often moves on to the next listing.	Clearer listing cards with a next step.

What your new website will do for Kaluh Real Estate

- Homepage form that captures every seller.
- WhatsApp and text button.
- Listing cards that move buyers to call.
