WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

The Lovely Clinic

thelovelyclinic.co.uk | London | Prepared for Dr Sarah Tonks

Your clinic has Google reviews, press logos and an expert team, but the page has dead treatment menus and a WhatsApp link that dials your landline.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The footer WhatsApp link points to tel:+44(0)2036955400, the landline, not the WhatsApp number +44 7401 163760.	A patient who taps to message gets a phone call instead and may give up.	A tested WhatsApp button on the correct number.
Injectables, Thread Lifting, Laser Treatments, Skin, Hair, Gynaecology and Body menu items link to #, and the same treatment appears under different URLs (/bbl-hero/, /bbl-heroic/).	A patient looking for a treatment hits a dead menu and Google sees duplicates.	Working menus and one page per treatment.
Leaked template text shows (Circle Text Configuration with Larger Font, Girl in a jacket), Trending appears five times, and several reviews appear to repeat word for word.	Repeats and leftover text make a premium brand look careless.	Clean templates and a single review wall.
No street address on the homepage, no before and after images, Book Now opens a popup with a 150 pound fee, and 45,000+ procedures has no source.	Patients cannot see where you are or what results to expect.	Address and map, captioned results and clear fee wording.

What your new website will do for The Lovely Clinic

- Working menus, a correct WhatsApp button and one page per treatment.
- A clean review wall, results gallery and clear address and fee information.
