WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Phi MEDCARE

phimedcare.com | Doha, Qatar | Prepared for the Phi MEDCARE team

A Lusail plastic surgery clinic appears to lose consultations to vague links, leftover text and no visible results or prices.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
Careers appears to point to the contact page, Insurance and International Patients appear to point to the same page, and Request consult appears to have no clear destination.	Patients cannot find the right page and leave.	One correct page per link.
A design note such as phi equals 1.618 appears in the hero, and the brand appears as three different spellings.	Leftover notes and mixed names look unfinished.	Clean hero text and one brand spelling.
The page appears to say consultants review real results but shows none, and no testimonials appear.	Cosmetic patients buy on visible results.	A consented results gallery and reviews.
JCI standard appears three times with no certificate, the licence appears with no number, and no pricing appears despite promised pricing guidance.	Unverified claims and missing prices push patients to compare elsewhere.	Certificate and licence details and starting prices.

What your new website will do for Phi MEDCARE

- Correct links.
- Clean text and brand name.
- Results, proof and prices.
