WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

A&M Law Firm

amlawfirm.sa | Riyadh | Prepared for Saleh Almoghairy and the team

A large named legal team and a form on the page are strengths, but leftover text and thin proof appear to cost you client enquiries.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The form asks for Phone / WhatsApp but the page lists only two unlabeled phone numbers and no WhatsApp link, and it requires a Corporate Email Address.	Clients who prefer WhatsApp or use a personal email may not enquire.	WhatsApp button and a simpler form.
Drag or use arrows appears twice, every team card ends with Profile, and the eight certification logos appear to repeat.	Template leftovers make the page look unfinished.	Clean carousels and one logo set.
Twelve Read more and six Read More links give no context, and Foreign Investment and Corporate Governance footer links appear to go to the general practice page.	Clients looking for a specific service cannot find it quickly.	Dedicated practice pages.
The awards give no year or category, client logos have no matter context, and two COVID-19 articles from 2020 sit beside 2026 content.	Old news and unspecific awards weaken proof of current work.	Dated awards and case studies.

What your new website will do for A&M Law Firm

- WhatsApp and a simpler enquiry form.
- Dedicated practice pages and clean layout.
- Dated awards, case studies and current news.
