WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Almushiri Law Firm

almushirilaw.com | Lusail Marina, Doha | Prepared for the Almushiri team

A location near the courts and a named lawyer are strengths, but stray code on the page and an email form with no send button appear to cost you enquiries.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
Stray text appears on the page, including '}}', '__MORE ABOUT US' and 'Hidden fields' beside the contact form.	Leftover code makes a law firm look unfinished.	A clean page with no leftover code.
The email us section lists Name, Email and Message but appears to show no submit button, and no WhatsApp number is listed.	Clients who want to message you cannot be sure the form works.	A tested form with a clear send button and WhatsApp.
The firm appears as Almushiri Law Firm, Al-Mushiri Law and Almushiri Law Office, and the main phone differs from Ahmed Al Mushiri's line.	Changing names and numbers weaken trust.	One firm name and clear contact lines.
The hero slogan repeats three times, and the page says Our legal team have years of experience but shows only one lawyer profile and no case results.	Repeated lines and thin proof weaken the firm's authority.	A full team page and case summaries.
