WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

London City Skin Clinic

londoncityskinclinic.com | London, UK | Prepared for Dr Robby Bajaj

A Harley Street skin clinic founded in 2010 is a strength, but dead menu links and an empty testimonials section appear to cost you consultations.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The main menu items Treatments and Conditions, the Skin and Face and Body headers and every Back link appear to point to #.	Visitors cannot browse your treatments from the menu.	A working treatment and condition menu.
The Our Testimonials heading appears with no testimonials beneath it, and thousands of quality procedures appears claimed with no evidence.	Cosmetic clients choose by proof, and an empty proof section loses them.	Real, dated reviews and ratings.
The brand appears as London City Skin Clinic in the header and London Skin Clinic in the footer, and the Nefertiti page address appears misspelled.	Mixed names and typos confuse visitors and weaken trust.	One brand name and proofread addresses.
The footer appears to read 2023, no opening hours appear, and the Beaconsfield clinic appears listed with no address or booking route.	Old dates and missing hours cost bookings.	A current footer, visible hours and full location details.

What your new website will do for London City Skin Clinic

- A working treatment menu.
- Real reviews.
- One brand name, hours and full locations.
