WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Toronto Eyelid Surgery

torontoeyelidsurgery.com | Toronto, Canada | Prepared for the Toronto Eyelid Surgery team

A specialist Toronto eyelid practice appears to lose consultations to zero counters, conflicting claims and a booking path that sends visitors away.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The three stat counters (Eyelid Surgeries, Surgical Procedures, Patients from Countries) appear to read 0+.	Zeros erase the proof that justifies a surgical fee.	Fixed numbers or working counters.
The hero appears to claim 30,000+ surgeries and 20 years, while the body appears to say over 20,000 procedures and 15 years.	Two different numbers make a surgical claim look careless.	One verified set of numbers everywhere.
Several links appear to point to myshopify.com addresses instead of your own domain.	Visitors see a strange address at the moment they decide to trust you.	Every link on your own domain.
The BOOK NOW button appears to leave the page, and many testimonials appear to have no name or procedure.	Patients drop off at extra steps and unattributed praise is easy to doubt.	A short consultation form on the page and named reviews.

What your new website will do for Toronto Eyelid Surgery

- Verified numbers and counters.
- Clean links on your own domain.
- On page consultation form and named reviews.
