WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

MD Skin Lab

mdskinlab.ca | Toronto, Canada | Prepared for the MD Skin Lab team

A Toronto medical spa selling products and treatments appears to lose bookings to a confusing booking path and missing proof.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The cart note appears to say that purchasing a treatment package does not book an appointment, and several different booking links and labels appear.	Patients may pay and think they are booked, or give up.	One clear booking path.
Menu items such as By Concern appear to link to #, and the Sign In link appears to use javascript:void(0).	Patients hit dead ends when browsing.	Working menus and account links.
Developer text such as choosing a selection results in a full page refresh appears to be visible, along with a leave this blank field.	Leaked internal text looks unprofessional on a medical site.	Clean, tested forms and product pages.
No clinic hours, physician name, reviews or before and after examples appear.	Patients choose treatments from clinics that show who treats them and the results.	Hours, physician profiles and a results gallery.

What your new website will do for MD Skin Lab

- One booking path.
- Working menus.
- Hours, profiles and results.

How it works

1. 15 minute call
   I show you a preview of your new design. No cost.
2. Approve the look
   You pick changes. I build in days, not months.
3. Launch and track
   Booking, WhatsApp and forms tested on mobile before go live.
