WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Mada Properties

madaproperties.sa | Riyadh | Prepared for the Mada Properties team

You have four Riyadh offices, project listings and an app, but a broken WhatsApp link, repeated cards and raw code on an article hurt trust.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The footer WhatsApp link uses wa.me/+971undefined, and it appears twice.	A buyer who taps to message you gets an error and may leave.	A tested WhatsApp button on the right number.
The Exclusive projects cards repeat twice in a row, the property prices by location tabs show no chart or figures, and article FAQ headings have no questions under them.	Repeated and empty sections look unfinished.	Each project shown once and complete content.
Request a Property and List Your Property show no form fields, no reviews appear, and Saudi Arabia's leading real estate broker has no evidence on the page.	Buyers and sellers need an easy form and proof.	Working forms, reviews and evidence for claims.
A blog article shows raw LaTeX code, and typos include Frequntly, Mawtin against Mawten, and delivery lines like Q21 and Q31.	Raw code and typos signal a site no one checks.	Clean articles and proofread listings.

What your new website will do for Mada Properties

- Working request and listing forms, plus a tested WhatsApp button.
- Clean project pages, reviews and clear evidence for your claims.
