WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Orthodontix

orthodontix.com.au | Sydney, Australia | Prepared for Dr Roger Hammond and team

A two clinic Sydney orthodontic practice appears to lose calls to phone links that look wrong and a messy page title.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
The tap to call links appear to use +610 and then the number, with an extra 0 after the country code.	A mobile visitor who taps to call may hear an error instead of your reception.	Correct +61 2 format in every call link.
The numbers appear on the page as +61 (02) 9451-3477, which mixes two formats.	A mixed format looks careless and can fail when dialed from abroad.	One clean format for both clinics.
The page title appears to end with a stray percent sign after the practice name.	Search results and browser tabs show the error to every new patient.	A clean title with the practice name and suburb.

What your new website will do for Orthodontix

- Working call links.
