WEBSITE GROWTH AUDIT

Beauty By Doctor

beautybydoctor.com | Bondi Junction, Sydney | Prepared for Dr Phoebe Jones and team

Beauty By Doctor has a doctor led brand, press features and a treatment quiz. Typos and dead links on the main menu, and no patient proof, weaken a clinic that sells medical credibility.

What I found on your website

What I saw	What it costs you	The fix
Typos on the page include physcian, Cosmentic Injectables Boom, fro women only and Sededation, and a double space in Dr Phoebe. A title reads Lenisna vs Rejuran... Introduction.	A doctor led clinic sells care and accuracy. Typos in headlines make patients question both.	A proofread build with consistent, clean headlines.
The Treatments and Concern menu items link to # or javascript:void(0), so they do not go anywhere. Some Book Now buttons have no link.	A patient who clicks Treatments and sees nothing leaves, and a Book Now that does nothing loses a booking.	Working menus and every Book Now linked to booking.
No patient reviews or before and after galleries appear, and press features are mostly about the doctor, not patient results.	Press builds authority, but injectable patients decide on results they can see.	Captioned results with consent and verified patient reviews.
Mega menus repeat long treatment and concern lists several times, with some concerns listed twice. Stray markup fragments appear in press blurbs. There is no contact form or chat.	A crowded menu slows visitors, and stray markup looks unfinished. Patients with a question have nowhere to ask.	A simpler menu, clean blurbs and a short contact form with chat.
